Job description

Ship the best design work of your career.

Design at Sarvam has had an outsized impact on everything we've built so far, and we're now growing the team. We care deeply about design, both the craft and science of it and we're looking to build a world class design team. We're looking for designers who treat design as the core of the product, not a layer applied at the end.

WHAT WE'RE LOOKING FOR

- 4+ years designing digital products end to end at a product-driven company

- Design product concepts that balance vision, craft, speed, and business value.

- A portfolio that shows real craft. Typography, hierarchy, motion, interaction, the full stack of visual and UX thinking

- Strong UX intuition. You can take abstract ideas and turn them into flows people understand without thinking

- Strong product judgment. You think about activation, engagement, and retention as design prob... (full description on the job page)

Job description

ABOUT SARVAM

Sarvam is building the bedrock of Sovereign AI for India. The company is developing India's full-stack sovereign AI platform, building across research, models, infrastructure and applications with a singular focus on making AI genuinely work for India. Sarvam works with leading enterprises and public institutions and is backed by Lightspeed, Peak XV, and Khosla Ventures. Sarvam partners with India's leading brands, including Tata Capital, SBI Life, CRED, IDFC, and LIC.

ABOUT THE ROLE

Sarvam's brand is already an argument about motion — it just hasn't been allowed to move yet.

The monogram is a gateway that emerges — layered circles resolving out of mandala geometry into a single threshold form. The palette isn't a set of swatches; it's a continuous run from blue to orange, built to suggest progression and responsive state. Both of those ideas are about change over tim...
